Concealed Love.

Our sands are bare, but smiling there
The acacia waves her yellow hair,
Lonely and sweet, nor loved the less
For flowering in the wilderness.—[Moore.

Life's Last Hours.

The soul's dark cottage, battered and decayed,
Lets in new light through chinks that time has made,
Stronger by weakness, wiser men become,
As they draw near their eternal home.—[Waller.

Trees.

The trees are sweet to us. The outcry strong
Of the long wandering and returning heart
Is for the things least changed. A stone unturned
Is sweeter than a strange or altered face.
A tree that flings its shadow as of yore.
Will make the blood leap, sometimes, when the words
Of a long looked for lip fall icy cold.—[N. P. Willis.

Great Tomb of Man.

Yet not to thy eternal resting-place
Shalt thou retire alone; nor couldst thou wish
Couch more magnificent. Thou shalt lie down
With patriarchs of the infant world, with kings,
The powerful of earth, the wise and good,
Fair forms and hoary seers of ages past,
All in one mighty sepulchre. The hills,
Rock-ribbed and ancient as the sun; the vales,
Stretching in pensive quietness between;
The venerable woods, rivers that move
In majesty, and the complaining brooks
That make the meadows green; and poured round all,
Old ocean's gray and melancholy waste—
Are but the solemn decorations all
Of the Great Tomb of Man.—[W. C. Bryant.

Congressional Protectection to Property an Old Principle.

Much has been said and written since the dissolution of the two Conventions at Baltimore, to give the impression that the South is demanding something new in claiming protection to their property in the Territories in common with the property of all the States. The enemies to this demand call it a "new dogma," a "slave code," a "recent introduction," and by cant phrases and abusive epithets, endeavor to keep the masses in ignorance of the true issue before the country. The South set up no new doctrine in demanding their constitutional rights in the Territories. These rights have always been acknowledged by the General Government, and by the people of the United States, and Congress has always interfered, whenever any unjust Territorial legislation the property rights have been impaired, whether that property was in slaves or anything else, until this miserable free soil political gambling office was open for political aspirants appealing to the passions and prejudices of the people, as a higher law than patriotism and fidelity to the Constitution and the Union.

In corroboration of these remarks, we append an account of certain proceedings in Congress in 1834, when the Democratic party and all other parties then represented in Congress maintained the rights of the South against unfriendly Territorial legislation. And now, while the Democratic party standby the same principles it advocated in the time of Andrew Jackson, all other political organizations have deserted them, and are endeavoring to fasten upon our Government a dangerous sectional policy. In 1834, Congress passed an act (Stat. at large, Vol. 4, page 740,) entitled, "An Act repealing certain acts of the Legislative Council of the Territory of Florida. It is as follows:

Be it enacted &c., That all such acts or parts of acts passed by the Legislative Council of the Territory of Florida as may impose a higher or greater tax on the slaves or other property of non-resident citizens than is imposed on the slaves or other property of resident citizens of said Territory, be and the same are hereby repealed and declared null and void.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted That if any person shall attempt to enforce any of the acts, or parts of acts, passed by the Legislative Council of the Territory of Florida, as aforesaid, by demanding or receiving any tax or imposition or assessment authorized or prescribed thereby, such person shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by fine not exceeding $200, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months or either or both of such punishments.

This bill passed both Houses without a dissenting vote, directly recognizing slaves as property and annulling an act of a Territory hostile to slavery.

The "Territorial Council" was the same as is the Territorial Legislature. It will be seen that near thirty years ago Congress considered it had the power and felt bount to protect all kinds of property in the Territories. At the same time expression was given as to the powers of "Territorial Councils," and such powers are very plainly stated, to be very limited. No State rights could be exercised till the Territory was a State, and then the people could decide for themselves, as to what kind of a currency they would have, what kind of domestic institutions they would have, whether negroes should vote or not, whether a property qualification should be considered in making a man a voter, and in the multitude of other particulars pertaining to State Sovereignty, and that alone, the people in forming a State constitution were to settle. In this manner has almost all of the States, since the organization of the Government been added to the original thirteen.

That a Territorial Legislature with a Governor appointed and Judicial officers by government, has the power to say that a certain man's property (Slaves) is not allowable in the Territory while that body is secondary, and cannot exercise a single function of a State, is preposterous and absurd. As well might they regulate the currency, decide who can and who cannot vote, change the judiciary, and turn out the Governor appointed by Congress. Yet this is the Douglas doctrine. The Territorial Legislature can turn out Slaves one year and admit them the next, if they please. This uncertainty is Douglas', unfriendly legislation, a legislation altogether special, extraordinary and without precedent.

Mr. Hickman, Republican member of Congress from Va. lately made a speech in Philadelphia in which he made the following remarks:

"Whatever conclusions may be drawn as to my estimates of Mr. Breckinridge's character as a politician, I can only say that my esteem for him is profound when brought into comparison with that which I entertain for his democratic competitor.—There are few, if any, living men concerning whom more has been said, and less really known, than Stephen A. Douglas of Illinois. There are thousands, by far too many thousands, now sustaining him under the mistaken and delusive idea that he is directing his efforts to counteract the plans of the Southern Democracy. This is a frightful hallucination, but a natural one, when we take into consideration the humiliating fact that all that devotion could do has been done, by those surrounding his person, to distort a true record, and to stamp a counterfeit character for him on the public mind.—Viewing him as one of the most unsafe and treacherous of leaders."

It is hard to understand how any man, after following Douglas's devious course through the mazes of his political career, can differ much with Mr. Hickman.

Mr H continues:

"I have not yet forgotten when, in the winter of 1855-6, during the first session of the thirty fourth Congress, the residents of Kansas, asseverating that the cardinal principle of the Nebraska Kansas act has been wantonly and wickedly nullified, that fraud and violence, concocted in the blue lodges of Missouri, had invaded their homes and imposed a foreign rule upon them for the purpose of forcing upon them institution which they abhorred, and invoking the interposition of Congress in their behalf, the prided father of "untrammeled popular sovereignty" turned his back upon his violated child, and closed his ears, as in death, to complaints of outrage almost without a parallel in the civilization of the century."

Mr. Doug las not only turned his back, but turned around at that time about once and a half, upon his bantling Kansas. He turned again when Lincoln met him upon the stump in Illinois. In that canvas he doubled and twisted his political web, and became involved in Democracy, Republicanism, State Rights, Territorial Sovereignty, and the Lord knows what; but at any rate, sufficient to damage him for the rest of his political life. Mr. Hickman continues;

"Mr. Douglas should have been the first man to go to Kansas relief, and if he had been as completely dedicated to the principles of his bill, as some would make us believe, he would have urged investigation and carried it. So far from having done so, he put himself in the lead of those Senators most hostile to an exposition, and became the mere mouth piece, advocate, and apologist of those engaged in the work of forcing slavery upon an unwilling people. He enjoyed at that time the full confidence of the South and his democracy was orthodox,—because he was loyal to his task-masters; willing to do battle for their most extravagant demands. He was then Chairman of the Committee on Territories, and at the time of which I speak, there was no one in Congress or out of Congress, in office or out of office, who exerted himself more untiringly to perpetrate that reign of terror inaugurated to insure the admission of Kansas into the Union as a slave State.

Truly, Stephen's record is a bad one. The Kaleioscope hardly exhibits more changes than is in his political coat; the flaring and bawdy predominating. Multitudes adore, with eyesight dazzled, the meteoric display "Popular Sovereignty."

Mr. Hickman says further:

"To that boldest, and truest, and greatest of all the warriors in the battle for the right, David C. Broderick, is Mr. Douglas indebted for his rescue from a whirlpool which would certainly have engulphed him—from a stain which would have obliterated his heroism in connection with the cause to which he has so ostentatiously professed to devote himself. I will blush the moment in which the scathing rebuke was clothed. And yet this noblest and most self-sacrificing of men, Mr. Douglas' protector, upon his return home, and in the hour of his sternest trial, when fighting, like gladiators, upon his bended knees, against the present dynasty, and at a time when he had a right to expect all possible aid from the man whose interest he had made his own, found all the sympathies of Mr. Douglas extended to his opponents, and himself treated as an enemy and an outcast. It we would respect the memory of Broderick, we can never support Douglas; it would be a mark of baseness and servility. If ever there was a true son of the North, inhumanly broken in spirit, and who had reason to exclaim, "save me from my friends," that man was David C. Broderick."

That Douglas led Broderick on to the extreme is beyond denial; in fact, Broderick impetuously went beyond the cool calculating policy of Douglas, who walked the bounds of Republicanism and Democracy, as Blondin walks the rope over Niagara.

EXTRACTS

From John C. Breckinridge's Letter of Acceptance.

The resolutions adopted by the Convention have my cordial approval. They are just to all parts of the Union, to all our citizens, native and naturalized, and they form a noble policy for any Administration.

The questions touching the rights of persons and property, which have of late been much discussed, find in these resolutions a constitutional solution. Our Union is a confederacy of equal sovereign States, for the purposes enumerated in the federal constitution. Whatever the common Government holds in trust for all the States must be enjoyed equally by each. It controlls the Territories in trust for all the States. Nothing less than sovereignty can destroy or impair the rights of persons or property. The Territorial Governments are subordinate and temporary, and not sovereign; hence they cannot destroy or impair the rights of persons and property. While they continue to be Territories they are under the control of Congress, but the Constitution nowhere confers on any branch of the federal Government the power to discriminate against the rights of the States or the property of their citizens in the Territories. It follows that the citizens of all the States may enter the Territories of the Union with their property, of whatever kind, and enjoy it during the territorial condition, without let or hindrance, either by Congress or by the subordinate Territorial Governments.

Those principles flow directly from the absence of sovereignty in the Territorial Governments, and from the equality of the States. Indeed, they are essential to that equality which is, and ever has been, the vital principle of our constitutional Union. They have been settled legislatively—se tled judicially—and are sustained by right reason. They rest on the rock of the Constitution—they will preserve the Union.

It is idle to attempt to smother these great issues, or to misrepresent them by the use of partizan phrases, which are misleading and delusive. The people will look beneath such expressions as "Intervention," "Congressional Slave Code," and the like, and will penetrate to the real questions involved.—The friends of constitutional equality do not and never did demand a "Congressional Slave Code," nor any other code in regard to property in the Territories. They hold the doctrine of non-intervention by Congress or by a Territorial legislature either to establish or prohibit slavery; but they assert (fortified by the highest judicial tribunal in the Union) the plain duty of the Government, in all its departments, to secure, when necessary, to the citizens of all the States the enjoyment of their property in the common Territories as everywhere else within its jurisdiction. The only logical answer to this would seem to be to claim sovereign power for the Territories or to deny that the Constitution recognizes property in the service of negro slaves, or to deny that such property can exist. Inexorable logic, which works its steady way through clouds and passions, compels the country to meet the issue. There is no evasive middle ground. Already the signs multiply of a fanatical and growing party, which denies that under the Constitution, or by any other law, slave property cannot exist; and ultimately the struggle must come between that party and the National Democracy, sustained by all the other conservative elements in the Union. * * * *

It has been necessary more than once in our history to pause, and solemnly assert the true character of this government. A memorable instance occurred in the struggle which ended in the civil revolution of 1800. The Republicans of that day, like the Democracy of this, were stigmatised as disunions, but they nobly conducted the contest under the Constitution, and saved our political system.—By a like constitutional struggle; it is intended now to assert and establish the equality of the States as the only basis of union and peace. When this object so national, so constitutional, so just, shall be accomplished, the last cloud will disappear from the American sky, and with common hands and hearts the States and the people will unite to develop the resources of the whole country, to bind it together with the bonds of intercourse and brotherhood, and to impel it onward in its great career.

The Constitution and the equality of the States!—These are symbols of everlasting union. Let these be the rallying cries of the people.

Religious Notice.--The Fourth and last Quarterly Meeting Service on the Mariposa Circuit, will be held at the M. E. Church, South, Main street, next Saturday and Sunday, 29th and 30th September
T. C. BARTON, P. E.
Mariposa, Sept. 25, '60. J. W. SIMMONS.

NOTICE.

The Union Party will hold a Primary Meeting at the Court Exchange, on Friday evening, Sept. 28th, at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of electing Delegates to the Union Convention on Saturday next.

Very Remarkable!--John M. Botts slept with President Tyler—the editor of the Gazette rode to Yo Semite with Horace Greeley—two of the most remarkable occurrences, probably, on record.—News.

One other you might have mentioned, that of your turning Douglasite, which was much like the boy in Arastook, Maine, going through "college," as "privys" are called down there. The hole was larger than he thought, and he went through, creeping out underneath in a bad plight, he remarked that he had been through college. The hole was larger than the aforesaid editor thought, and whether he will smell sweeter, politically, at the end of the campaign than did the boy, personally, after his college course, is an after consideration.

"All that Tyler said to Botts during that eventful night, has probably never been published—but all that Greeley said to the editor of the Gazette is fortunately making its appearance in the columns of that paper. * * * * * * It seems that Greeley used some harsh expressions concerning Mr. Douglas, which are remembered a year and now they are published to injure him. The disunion bolting Breckinridge party have done little else but misrepresent and abuse Mr. Douglas."

The Star published correctly, some two weeks since, the remark of Mr. Greeley on that trip to us We have mentioned it at different times, and thought Mr. Greeley was correct, and think so yet. At that time, Mr. Douglas was thought by Mr. Greeley to be Republican. Free-Soilers were singing peans of praise to him and had good reason to do so. This fact cannot escape the recollection of the editor of the News, if he will but beat a reveillee to his seven senses and get a few of them together;

"And it seems they have exhausted themselves and fall back on Republicans—pick up some of their old slanders of a year's standing and re all them with great self-satisfaction."

Old slanders of a year's standing! A year is a limit of your retrospection, is it? It is well enough not to go back very long, for in 18 6 you and Mr. Douglas subscribed to this in the Cincinnati Platform.

"That we recognize the right of the people of all the Territories acting through their legally and fairly expressed will to form a Constitution with or without slavery whenever the number of inhabitants in such Territory justifies the formation of such constitution, or in other words the construction of a State."

Now you, Mr. Editor, and Mr. Douglas agree:

"That the people of a Territory can, by lawful means, exclude, slavery before it comes in as a State," "no matter what may be the decision of the Supreme Court on that abstract question, still the right of the people of the Territories to make a slave territory or free Territory is perfect and complete."

A beautiful construction. According to that, a boy 15 years of age has the privileges of his majority, or in fact is as good as his "dad." The Territory, according to our District Attorney, can exercise State sovereignty, and the boy do as he d—n pleases

The Gazette seems to make it the burden of its song, and unblushingly asserts, that the doctrine of the supporters of Douglas and Johnson will prevent the people of the South from having equal rights in the Territories.—News.

Exactly; and you, Mr. News, we presume blushingly, if you have blood enough in your body to produce color as high up as your face; you, who subscribed to the Cincinnati Platform, and to the Dred Scott Decision, now assert that the Douglas doctrine is equal rights to the South in the Territories. A more preposterous statement you couldn't make; and we believe you know it. Talk of a Territorial Legislature authorized and made by General Government, with governor and judicial officers appointed by Government exercising a right that Congress itself cannot exercise.

The position of the Douglas party is like unto the roof of a house, the walls of which are Republican: the roof inclines to the walls as does Douglasism to Republicanism. There is no avoiding this conclusion. One intends to act manfully and squarely, says "no further slave extension;" while Douglas proposes to accomplish the same thing indirectly and by subterfuge.

The Editor of the News puts us in mind of an old hen who has hatched a lot of ducks, having been imposed upon in the kind of eggs put under her to set upon. He clucks about to his broad billed waddling brood who when they want to go in swimming, he, like the old hen, will have to stay on the bank. Neither will they care a cuss for his clucking, as they never have in times before. They will go in and come out at pleasure, into conventions and out likewise, and the most he (Mr. Editor) can do is to scratch up worms and in a bad storm sit outside the flock.

The Mariposa News was, according to public expectancy "borned," sometime between sunset Monday night and sunrise Tuesday morning, when it was exhibited throughout the town, to the admiring gaze, doubtless, of something near 30 Douglas men. It however, was circulated as was the Star, the only difference being in its distribution, the one being paid for, and the other to a great extent gratuitous. The paper is of the same size as was the Star, contained pretty much the same advertisements, which unless ordered out will be kept in; and further, it contained the eminations of the fertile brain of our District Attorney, to the exclusion of almost everything else except a few selections of a political character. According to custom, we wish it success.

Eighteen bottles of wine were drank at the News office, if we are correctly informed, and we believe we are, on the night that the result of the impregnation of the Douglas party was "drapped," namely the News. The whole party about here was understood to be present.

The News quotes Col. Inge, and publishes a speech of Col. Inge, states Col. Inge to be from the South, and evidently tries to think Col. Inge, Exodous Deuteronomy and the Ten Commandments besides, of Democracy. We would like to know what Col. Inge has ever been, but an off ox in the Democratic team for years past; ever since he has been in this state.

The Cincinnati Platform much talked of and referred to as embodying the principles of the Democracy of '56. It was much approved by the by the Democracy throughout the Union. One of the resolutions in that platform was:

Resolved, "That we recognize the right of the people of all the Territories, acting through the legally and fairly expressed will of a majority of actual residents, and whenever the number of their inhabitants justifies it to form a Constitution with or without domestic slavery, and be admitted into the Union upon terms of perfect equality with the other States."

This is the only resolution in the Platform bearing directly upon the point at issue between the Breckinridge and Douglas parties of to day. That any fair interpretation can be put upon it other than that domestic slavery can only be excluded from a Territory upon the formation of a State Constitution by the proper convention forming it, is most certainly a wrong conclusion and at variance with all precedent At that time of the Cincinnati Platform was established as the principle of Democracy, and all Democrats subscribed to it, S. A Douglas included. The Supreme Court approved the principle, in the Dred Scott case, to wit:

1st. "The Territory thus acquired is acquired by the people of the United States for their common and equal benefit, through their agent and trustee, the Federal Government. Congress can exercise no power over the rights of persons or property of a citizen in the Territory which is prohibited by the Constitution. The Government and the citizen, whenever the Territory is open to settlement, both enter with their respective rights defined and limited by the Constitution."

2d. "Congress has no right to prohibit citizens of any particular State or States from taking up their home there, while it permits citizens of other States to do so. Nor has it a right to give privileges to one class of citizens which it refuses to another. The Territory is acquired for their equal and common benefit, and if open to any it must be open to all upon equal and the same terms."

3d. "EVERY CITIZEN HAS A RIGHT TO TAKE WITH HIM INTO THE TERRITORY ANY ARTICLE OF PROPERTY WHICH THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES RECOGNIZES AS PROPERTY."

4th. "THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES RECOGNIZES SLAVES AS PROPERTY, AND PLEDGES THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO PROTECT IT. And Congress cannot exercise any more authority over property of that description than it may constitutionally exercise over property of any other kind."

5th. "The act of Congress, therefore, prohibiting a citizen of the United States taking with him his slaves when he removes to the Territory in question to reside, IS AN EXERCISE OF AUTHORITY OVER PRIVATE PROPERTY WHICH IS NOT WARRANTED BY THE CONSTITUTION, and the removal of the plaintiff by his owner to that Territory gave him no title to freedom."

6th. "While it remains a Territory Congress may legislate over it within the scope of its constitutional powers in relation to citizens of the United States, and may establish a Territorial Government, and the form of this local government must be regulated by the discretion of Congress; but with powers not exceeding those which Congress itself by the Constitution is authorized to exercise over citizens of the United States in respect to their rights to property."

Above are the sentiments of the Democracy of all parts of the Union in '56; also the opinion of the Supreme Court, as plain as can be made.

1st. A Territory cannot exercise a right belonging only to a State, to wit: The establishment and regulation of its domestic institutions, in which are included all the peculiar laws of States, and which are different in nearly all regarding currency, who shall and who shall not vote, &c., &c.

2d. Slaves are acknowledged as property; and a man entering a Territory with slaves is equally entitled to protection by the Federal Government, in case his rights are invaded, as is a manufacturer of the North or an agriculturist and stock raiser of the West.

3d. That Squatter or "Popular Sovereignty" is a principle altogether unknown in the organization of any Territory heretofore. That it has never been allowed or recognized in any of the Territory from which has been formed the States in the Mississippi Valley, or in fact, in any State added to the original thirteen.

Now S. A. Douglas says:

"The people of a Territory can, by lawful means, exclude, slavery before it comes in as a State," and "no matter what may be the decision of the Supreme Court on that abstract question, still the right of the people of the Territories to make a slave territory or a free Territory is perfect and complete."

Yet this same Douglas subscribed to the Cincinnati Platform, and had'nt much to say against the Dred Scott decision quoted.

As we think, if a man is honestly opposed to slavery, and desires no more slave States be added to the Union, and further, that slavery shall be kept out of the Territories, and denies the privileges to the Southern people that they have ever enjoyed in the settlement of States west of the Alleghanies; they had better join the Republicans at once, and fight the fight with a square face than to resort to subterfuge and dissimulation, by being connected with the Douglas faction.

The meeting and speaking of last Saturday evening in front of the Court Exchange, was something rather out of the ordinary way and deserves more than a passing notice. The call for it was made by the Bell and Everett party, who stated in substance that they desired to make a friendly controversial affair of it and consequently champions of the other political parties were invited The President of the Bell and Everett Club A F Washburn, called the meeting to order and introduced Judge Daly, who in a plain unassuming manner defined the principles of his party as well as combatted those of the Douglasites and Republicans, in a speech occupying something like an hour. He said nothing especially against the Breckinridge party, except at the close of his speech, when the Judge had to say the party was sectional. But the Breckinridgers, who were out in full force, forgave him that, for a prettier Breckinridge speech, or one we more highly approve, we do not expect to listen to many times duringthe present canvass The Judge was often cheered and respectful attention always given.

When he retired, loud cries arose for a number of speakers, those of the Douglasites who were filled with dire dismay and anger at what they thought to be Judge Daly's defection and his manifest disposition not to fuse with them, were the loudest, and Mr District Attorney Fleming, Editor of the News appeared to rebut, and to try to prop the somewhat shaky structure of Douglasism. He worked about an hour and a half at the business, during which time, we regret to say that he was improperly interrupted and ended with tiring himself, his audience, and wearing his subject, which was but a rehash of Douglasism, Popular Sovereignty, &c., completely out

Col. Merritt appeared next in obedience to a call of, it seemed, the whole assemblage. He spoke at length, and a better speech, as acknowledged by those who have heard him often, he never made. It was thorough and conclusive, as well as gentlemanly and deferential to other's opinions. The loud cheers and applause which often burst forth showed that more than his strict party friends joined in approval. He too was subject to annoying interruptions.

J. G. McCullough Esq next appeared in advocacy of Bell and Everett. He spoke very readily and modestly, and to the satisfaction of all his friends; and all, who though differing politically, could but acknowledge his manner and understanding of his subject.

Dr. R McCaffrey next followed on the Republican side. It was very late and we did not hear his remarks, but understand them to have been appropriate to the cause he was advocating.

One word about the interruption of speakers; we hope it is the last time we shall ever have similar occurrences to those of Saturday night. The practice of disturbing a speaker is improper and is only allowable when he makes personal allusions. We do not accuse particular parties, for all seemed to have a hand in it except the Bell and Everett party, who conducted themselves in the most gentlemanly manner throughout.

Wednesday morning a Chinese prostitute was found dead in a building formerly used as a store by McDermott & Co., at the lower end of Main street.—Various stories are afloat regarding the manner of her death; one is that she was enveloped in a blanket and beaten; another, is that she commited suicide by taking opium, another by pounding herself to death, while in an insane condition Dr. Tavnay, Coroner, held an inquest, and the verdict was:

"Death from beating about the neck and breast by some person or persons unknown."

A post mortem examination showed the flesh severely bruised about the upper part of the chest, several congestions had taken place. Very liberal lies were told by Chinamen about her death. Three of them, said to be present when she died, were committed to Jail.

Peter Dalton, brought from Mono, charged with stealing several animals from this region, was on Monday examined, and in default of $1,000 bail, was committed to Jail to answer hereafter.

G. Nelson, for practicing with his six shooter in the street, was sentenced on Monday 17th, to sixty days in county Jail.

State Items.

At the Bell and Everett Convention recently held in Sacramento, but 26 counties were represented.—Judge Daly of this place was nominated as an alternate Presidential Elector.

A first class passage to the States on the last steamer was $250; steerage $125. In each instance, the State tax was additional, to be paid by the passenger.

A very large grove of big trees, measuring some of them as much as 35 feet in diameter 20 feet above the roots, has been discovered lately, according to some papers, in the eastern or mountain portion of Tulare county. Some thousands of trees are there to be seen It is a mistake about the "late discovery," for the grove was known more than two years ago. We were then informed by O. K. Smith, then a member of the Legislature, of the existence of the grove on the head of Deer Creek, not many miles from a saw-mill he then owned, and at that time published the statement. Groves of these trees are to be found at intervals all the way from Calaveras to Kern River at a certain elevation and where the circumstances of soil and water favor their growth.

The Regular Democracy of Tuolumne County held their county convention last week. They nominated Dr C. V. Williamson of Big Oak Flat, for State Senator, and Messrs. G. W. Patrick, Amyx, Chandler, and Gillette, for the Assembly. Having the pleasure of personal acquaintance with the first four of the five nominees; we emphatically endorse the ticket as a strong one and ardently hope that it may be successful. Dr. Williamson, than whom a more accomplished gentleman and thorough Democrat cannot be met in this region, can hardly fail as we think of election.

The San Joaquin Republican learns that a rich vein of quartz has been struck upon the main Merced, about ten miles below Yo Semite Valley. It is news here, if it is so.

A woman living somewhere, who is sixty years old, had a young one lately, which fact the Stockton Republican thinks worthy of record.

Numerous bets are being made that Douglas will not carry two Southern States. An infatuated believer in the "Little Giant" bet $100 here the other day that he would carry six free States. We reckin he is badly tuk in.

Knight's Ferry, since its attachment to Stanislaus county, again sports a paper. A year ago, one, the Bee, died and was buried there. The offspring of the present attempt is called the Index.

Rev. Mr. Lacy preached in Stockton last Monday and entirely satisfied the editor of the Argus that our bodies will be raised up "incorruptible," and that although each individual body should preserve its identity, still it would be so purified of earthly matter as to render it a fit tenant of the heavenly mansions.

Wonder if all will rise at once? and further wonder if the time of rest will be graduated to offences? About how long will it take to get Douglasism out of you, "Tim?" Irrigation and to be dunged in the hole would be necessary to start some of you—Strange that Mr. Lacy should preach such a sermon. We thought he preached of a hell, &c

The Messenger says that some fiend went to the cabin of Widow O'Connell, at Howland Flat, and attempted to effect an entrance—it was thought with the intention of taking her away! She shot. He left—Sierra Democrat.

Forbes, you have tortured that item to a wonderful extent to draw a blackguard conclusion; and you're no doubt well satisfied with your success.—Mountain Messenger.

Another lie refuted.

The Douglas press have been for the last month asserting that John C. Breckinridge had uttered Know Nothing sentiments. Hear what Mr. Breckinridge says in a recent speech, made at Ashland, Kentucky, Sept. 5th.

"I have seen pamphlets published and circulated all over the Union for the purpose of proving that I was a Know Nothing in the year 1855, in the State of Kentucky. I have no doubt that a very considerable protion of those listening to me were members of that order in that year, and if there is a man among you who belongs to the order, who ever saw me in one of your lodges, who did not know that I was recognized as one of the most uncompromising opponents, let him be good enough to say so now.—I believe I was the first gentleman in Congress who took a position against the organization. When I returned home in the spring of 1855 it was making great progress in the commonwealth, and although I was withdrawn from public life, to attend to my private affairs, I opposed it in repeated speeches all over Kentucky.

This statement may not be very acceptable to some gentlemen within the sound of my voice, but I do not want to deceive any man; I stand upon my principles, and am willing to own them without the slightest regard to the consequences. I am represented as having said I would make a difference between one of my own religious belief and a naturalized citizen. I never uttered such a sentence. The underlying principle with me was this: That the condition of citizenship being once obtained, no question of religion or birth should be allowed to commingle with political considerations."

Republican Triumph.—The Butte Record says that "Lincoln will carry Hell's Delight, Ground Hog's Glory and Jackass Gulch, in that county Even the strongholds of the Douglas party are surrendering."

In this county Lincoln will carry Pinkeye, Female Weakness, and the Small Gut precincts. With the help of the Douglasites they hope to carry Amalgamation Point in the "Octoroon" district.

In Justice Catron's opinion in the Dred Scott decision, the following occurs. We may add that all but two of the Supreme Court Judges virtually expressed the same opinion.

"The Missouri compromise line of 1820 was very aggressive; it declared that slavery was abolished for ever thoroughout a country reaching from the Mississippi river to the Pacific Ocean, stretching over thirty-two degrees of longitude, and twelve and a half degrees of latitude on its eastern side, sweeping over four fifths, to say no more, of the original province of Louisiana.

"That the United States government stipulated in favor of the inhabitants to the extent here contended for, has not been seriously denied, as far as I know; but the argument is, that Congress had authority to repeal the third article of the treaty of 1803, in so far as it secured the right to hold slave property, in a portion of the ceded territory, leaving the right to exist in other parts In other words, that Congress could repeal the third article entirely, at its pleasure. This I deny.

"The compacts with North Carolina and Georgia were treaties also, and stood on the same footing of the Louisiana treaty; on the assumption of power to repeal the one, it must have extended to all, and Congress could have excluded the slaveholder of North Carolina from the enjoyment of his lands in the territory now the State of Tennessee, where the citizens of the mother State were the principal proprietors.

"And so in the case of Georgia. Her citizens could have been refused the right to emigrate to the Mississippi or Alabama territory, unless they left their most valuable and cherished property behind them."

In a little garden, a sort of beet arrangement, not far down the creek, is stuck the following:

NOTIS!
Viserters are reguestid not to pull frute.

School ought to be kept up in Mariposa, for the present, one would naturally think.

Several Pigs of the land-shark species and of very large size, one day last week invaded premises wherein was Judge Bondurant. His Honor immediately pronounced sentence and commenced to execute it by throwing rocks, not one of which went within six feet of either pig. One pig laughed at the Judge—another reached up perpendicularly six feet for peaches, and another opened a side gate to let in young friends. We remarked slightly to the Judge that he had better get out a process of ejectment, and he in a friendly way merely remarked that he couldn't treat our friends in that style. How the matter was finally settled, we are not informed.

Look out for Thieves.--Sunday night the 17th, the Oak Spring House was invaded by a thief, who stole all the brandy he could drink, $2 out of the drawer, and several little articles. The thief was barefoot, and entered through a kitchen window.

Breckinridge and Lane Club.--Met pursuant to adjournment; L. A. HOLMES in the Chair. Minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

Col. Merritt, Chairman of the committee, reported a Constitution and By-Laws, for the Government of the Club. Adopted.

L. A. Holmes was chosen permanent President; C. Kerrins, Vice President; James H. Lawrence, Recording Secretary; T. W. Behan, Corresponding Secretary; B. B. Harris, Treasurer.

Committee appointed to procure signatures, reported 53 members.

On motion, the committee chosen for the purpose of procuring signatures, will act hereafter in the same capacity.

On motion of B. B. Harris, the Corresponding Secretary be instructed to invite Democratic speakers abroad, to address the poeple of Mariposa.

On motion, adjourned, subject to the call of the Secretary, said call to be published in the Mariposa Gazette.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS OF THE MARIPOSA BRECKINRIDGE AND LANE DEMOCRATIC CLUB.

Constitution.

Whereas, In the present contest we believe that John C. Breckinridge and Joseph Lane, are the true National Democratic Nominees for President and Vice President, and that the Platform promulgated by the Convention which nominated them, is a true exposition of Democratic principles, upon which all National Democrats may unite, and that in the enforcement of those principles depend the harmony and perpetuity of the Government: therefore, in support of John C. Breckinridge and Joseph Lane, we hereby form this Club to be styled the "Mariposa Breckinridge and Lane Democratic Club," and pledge ourselves to the support of John C. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, for President, and Joseph Lane, of Oregon, for Vice President, of the United States.

By-Laws.

I. The officers of this Club shall consist of a President, Vice President, Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, and Treasurer, to be elected by the Club.

II. The President shall preside at the meetings of the Club, and in his absence the Vice President shall act as President.

III. The Recording Secretary shall keep a correct minute of all the proceedings of the Club.

IV. The Corresponding Secretary shall take charge of and answer all correspondents, addressed to the Club.

V. The Treasurer shall receive all moneys due the Club, keep a correct account thereof, and pay the same out, on the order of the Club.

VI. All Committees ordered by the Club shall be appointed by the President, unless otherwise specially ordered.

VII. The Rules of Jefferson's Manual shall be the Rules of order of this Club.

The Issue.--The struggle between the two wings of the Democratic party is one upon which the protection of our property and the development of our section of the Union mainly depend. If we falter in this encounter of antagonistic principles—if the South allows herself to be betrayed by the horde of traitors who infest her large cities—if we betray the least hesitation in repelling the assaults upon our solemnly guaranteed rights—we may as well prepare ourselves for our impending fate, for fanaticism will not fall short of universal emancipation in the States.

And what has produced this break with Douglas and his friends! The squatter sovereignty prints may gloss over this question with their proverbial sophistry, and the Bell and Everett organs, with ill concealed satisfaction, may pretend to give correct statements, but the fact cannot be concealed from the masses of the American people, that Stephen A. Douglas has proved himself, for causes of disappointed ambition, the friend and ally of black republicanism. If he has not asserted the black republican doctrine, of the power of Congress to crush out slavery in the Territories, he has adopted a more effective and certainly more insidious policy to attain the same goal. His batteries have been opened against this special class of property, and in giving to the Territorial Legislature the power to make the local law against slavery, and denying the South any protection at the hands of the Federal government, he aims a blow at the extinction of State Rights, from which, if successful, the South can never recover

Our platform takes the Broad ground that neither Congress nor the Territories have the right to exclude slavery from the latter, or to impair the right of property in slaves This principle is in accordance with the Cincinnati Platform and with the legal interpretation of the highest judicial tribunal in the country.

Partisan hatred or blindness alone can deny the fact, that the battle has to be fought in this contest only between two parties—the Breckinridge party, upholding the rights of the South, and the black republican, contending for the "everlasting nigger." These are the two great organizations now dividing and agitating the nation. No consistent alternative is left to the men of the South. They must make a selection between these parties. Those who repudiate Breckinridge and Lane, and cast their suffrages either for Bell or Douglas, give, indirectly, "aid and comfort" to the enemy, and weaken the strength of the South. Will our citizens adopt such a parricidal course?—N. O. Crescent.

Popular Sovereignty is the hobby of the Douglas men. The simple term is stronger in receiving the favor and the votes of those who, not understanding political matters to any degree, but who wish to do right and vote right, than any platform of principles that could be devised. "The people can do as they please," say the Douglas men; "they are the sovereigns;" "they can act in a Territory as though they were in a State." They can also act without restraint, without a constitution, and as an irresponsible body they can act responsibly. More at present of our voters of foreign birth are seduced by this high sounding "Popular Sovereignty" to do that which they wouldn't do, did they thoroughly understand political matters, than by all other influences put together.

Death of a Northern Editor.--Wm. T. Whitacre, late editor of the Port Townsend Register, died two weeks since. He was buried by the Masonic fraternity with every demonstration of respect.—S. F. Mirror.

Mr. Whitacre was the founder of newspaperdom in this county, he having started the Mariposa Chronicle in 1854. He was a man of good heart and genial qualities, and his memory is much respected. The paper started by Mr. W. failed in a little more than one year Some months after failure the Gazette was started upon its ruins. Nearly one half of the individuals connected at different times with the two papers, are dead. We wonder if all will not die before six years more rolls around?

We regret to learn that Barnes, publisher of the Union Press, and foreman in the office of the News, was considerably injured Sunday evening by being thrown from his horse. Newspaper men about here have had bad luck for the past two months, and that same still continues it seems.—Lawrence was half killed not long ago by the falling of his horse; another individual, whose name it is not necessary to mention, sprained his foot, which a Douglas "phisicin" out of politeness called the gout. Swaney got married, which renders him not good for much; our devil "Tumerious" busted his right leg in playing "tag," and the devil in the New's office is flat on his back because somebody tried to drive his tail in.

Reinforcements from below will be necessary before long, as there are not more than three well individuals in both offices.

A Duel was fought near Visalia, last week, as we understand, between Shannon, editor of the Delta, and W. G. Morris, Esq. The former was wounded in the hand. The latter was the challenging party, and the challenge was because of a certain publication appearing in the Delta.

Those desiring employment, will notice the advertisement of T. W. Park, Esq., in another column. Fair wages and steady employment given.

STOCKTON
MAIN ST., WEST END—ESTABLISHED 1850.

THE undersigned, confident from their long experience in the Milling business, of their ability to manufacture the best description of FLOUR, would invite the attention of parties wishing to purchase, to the established reputation their brand has acquired in the Southern Mines, and wherever introduced, for its purity and superior quality.

They would take this occasion to inform their friends and the public, that having added to the premises, a FIRE-PROOF BRICK STORE-HOUSE, 40x80 feet, capable of storing 600 tons grain—improved and perfected the machinery of the Mills, their increased conveniences enable them to confidently guarantee every sack of Flour branded "Stockton City Mills."

To Merchants and Farmers, they would add, that they continue to pay particular attention to grinding all kinds of grain In conclusion, they would respectfully refer all those unacquainted with the Mills, to the principal Merchants of Stockton and the Southern Mines. SPERRY & CO.

N. B. The office has been removed to the new building, adjoining the Mill, where orders are solicited for FLOUR, CORN MEAL, GROUND BARLEY, SHORTS, BRAN, &c. S. & CO.

Mariposa Gazette

Judge Douglas on Unanimous Nominations.—On the 9th of July, 1852, the Hon. Stephen A. Douglas, says the Richmond Examiner, addressed the Democracy of Richmond, Virginia, in the African Church. From the speech prepared by himself, published in the Enquirer, of July 20th, 1852, we make the subjoined extracts. It will be remembered that at the Baltimore Whig Convention of 1852, the North demanded the nomination of Gen. Scott, and the South resisted the demand. Commenting upon the sectional aspect of that nomination, and the deplorable results that would come from it, Mr. Douglas said:

"Well, General Scott received the nomination 'unanimously,' according to the official proceedings of the Convention. [Laughter.] Fellow citizens, did you ever hear of a unanimous nomination, which was made in defiance of the fifty times repeated protest and remonstrances of the delegations from one half the States of the Union represented in the Convention? Every Southern delegation voted against him more than fifty times, day after day, and night after night, and yet the 'nomination' was unanimous. [Great laughter.] The nomination of Gen. Scott, there, presents to the American people this extraordinary anomaly. For the first time in the history of our party contests has a sectional nomination ever been forced upon either of the two great parties! You may talk of the dangers to the American Union, growing out of partisan strife and political contests. You may tremble at the scenes through which we all recently passed, connected with the slavery agitation; yet there was nothing in all that is so perilous to the safety of the Union as a sectional nomination for the Presidency, where the North demanded the nomination of a particular man on a sectional issue. And the delegations from every Southern State, without exception, resisted the nomination as dangerous to their rights and institutions. A nomination forced upon the South by the Free Soil wing of the Whig party North, is now presented to the American people as a unanimous nomination.

"It matters not whether the North forced the nomination upon the South, or the South upon the North, the dangers consists in the fact that a Territorial line divided men's opinions, that Northern men were one way and Southern men another. But, after the nomination is made, we are told that it was a fair compromise, because the South received the platform, and the North obtained the candidate, under the direction of men who 'defy' and 'spit upon' the platform. Thus, we have Winfield Scott before us for the Presidency. After mature deliberation he proceeds to accept the platform, and to write the letter which he had promised Mr. Archer in the private note, that was found in Mr. Bott's breeches pocket."

If the reader, pursues the Examiner, will substitute "Stephen A. Douglas" for "Winfield Scott," he will have a just and complete condemnation of his own nomination, from his own lips. Such a nomination of Gen. Scott, he pronounced would "convert a good General into a bad President," and we may ask if the result would not be equally disastrous to a Senator?

If Mr. Douglas could urge the facts connected with Gen. Scott's nomination as "dangerous" to the South, from the divisions that existed in Baltimore in 1852, what circumstances would palliate the evil from the same causes in the Democratic party in 1860? "Out of thine own mouth do we condemn thee," Stephen.

The Sunken Fleet.—Mr. Gowan, the gentleman engaged in raising the sunken fleet at Sebastopol, writes to a friend in London: "On July 9th, I raised and brought alongside the wharf the sixty-gun frigate Koolefchi, the large masts of which stood upright in the centre of the harbor. She is in good condition. Since you left I have raised some twelve vessels among them four wooden and one iron war steamer of two hundred and sixty horse power each. The steamer Vladimir will be the next one, and after her some line of battle ships. I have paid great attention to the reparation of the cemeteries where your brave countrymen are buried, and have ornamented the graves of the French and Sardinians who were killed during the war, and in some places I have covered with concrete the graves of your Generals.—I am thoroughly convinced that the Russian government and authorities have the greatest regard and respect for the graves of all, yet I think that some person should be appointed to look after the graves, for it can hardly be expected that the Russian government will watch over three hundred graveyards, covering over twenty square miles of territory.

Douglas vs. Johnson.

"I firmly and conscientiously believe that there is no safety for the country, no hope for the preservation of the Union except by a faithful and rigid adherence to the doctrines of non intervention by Congress in the Territories. Intervention means disunion. There is no difference in principle between Northern and Southern intervention. The one intervenes for slavery and the other against slavery, but each appeals to the passions and prejudices of his own section against the peace of the whole country and the right of self government by the people of the Territories; hence the doctrine of non-intervention must be maintained at all hazards; but while I can never sacrifice the principle, even to attain the Presidency, I will cheerfully and joyfully sacrifice myself to maintain the principle."—Douglas' Letter to Richardson.

"The citizens of the United States have an equal right to settle with their property of any kind, in the organized Territories in the United States, and that under the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Dred Scott, which we recognize as the correct exposition of the Constitution of this particular, slave property stands upon the same footing as all other descriptions of property, and that neither the General Government NOR ANY TERRITORIAL GOVERNMENT can destroy or impair the right to slave property in the common Territories, any more than the right to any other description of property; that property of all kinds, slaves as well as any other species of property, in the Territories, stand upon the same equal and broad basis, and subject to like principles of recognition and PROTECTION in the LEGISLATIVE, JUDICIAL AND EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS OF THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT.—H. V. Johnson's Report on the Georgia Convention.

"The ultra men in each section demand Congressional intervention with the subject in the Territories. They agree in respect to the power and duty of the Federal Government to control the question, and differ only as to the mode of exercising the power."—Douglas's Serenade Speech.

Will some Douglaxite who undertakes, upon principle, to support both these candidates, tell us which of them is right?—National Democrat.

Bell and Everett: fancy names, understood only by the initiated, signifying in one place Douglas and Johnson, and elsewhere nothing at all. Owing to the total uncertainty as to their meaning, the people are everywhere dropping them. In a great and momentous contest like the present, humbug is useless.—N. Y. Tribune.

Politicians, Pause.—The present is a time of great peril to all politicians who hope for a future. They are now compelled, by the force of events, to choose their own destiny. It is a difficult and truly hazardous situation in which they are placed by the conjuncture of uncontrollable circumstances. If they choose the true course, a brilliant future is in prospect. If they commit an error, they will fall to rise no more. Sectionalism, now for the first time dressed up in the garb of Democracy, appeals to them with its local and personal sympathies and prejudices, most powerfully, to lead them astray. On the other hand, patriotism, duty, true Democracy, call upon them to stand boldly, bravely, and fearlessly, by the flag of their whole country. That appeal comes athwart the sympathies and prejudices of localities and attachment of persons; calls upon them to look beyond the exigencies of the present hour, and demands of them fealty, not to a State, nor section, but to the whole Union. NATIONALISM, which all true patriots will support, is represented by BRECKINRIDGE and LANE. SECTIONALISM by Douglas and Johnson. Look well before you leap. Your future political life is dependent upon the step you now take.—N. H. Standard.

An Arkansas traveler says, that he knew a young fellow down South, who was so fond of a young woman that he rubbed off his nose kissing her shadow on the wall.

The phrase, "fighting on his own hook," is now more elegantly rendered—"waging war upon the individuality of his personal curve." Ahem!

A Lawyer engaged in a case tormented a witness so much with questions that the poor fellow at last cried for water. "There," said the judge, "I thought you'd pump him dry."

Special Notice.—The Medical and Surgica Institute of Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of Medical science, and they occupy with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country, as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his Profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company.

☞We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper.

DOOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHNAPPS.

A medicinal drink of eminently salatory qualities, manufactured by himself exclusively, at his factory at Schiedam, in Holland, and well known during the last twelve years throughout all the Atlantic and Western States.

It is made from the best barley that can be selected in Europe, with the essence of an aromatic Italian berry, of acknowledged and extraordinary medicinal properties. It has long since acquired a higher reputation, both in Europe and America, than any other diuretic beverage.

Analyzed, it is a perfectly pure Liquor, in its effects a mild and wholesome tonic. It is extensively used and approved by the medical faculty, the temperance people, heads of families, &c.

In Gravel, Gout, and Rheumatism, in obstructions of the Bladder and Kidneys, and in General Debility its effects are prompt, decided, and invariably reliable; and it is not only a remedy for these maladies, but in all cases in which they are produced by drinking bad water, which is almost universally the cause of them, it acts as a sure preventive.

For Fever and Ague it is one of the most efficacious preventive that can be resorted to.

The Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps

Is consequently in great demand by persons traveling, or about to settle in new parts of the country especially, as well as by many in every community, where it has become known, on account of its various other remedial properties.

In all cases of a Dropsical tendency, it is generally the only remedy required, when adopted in the early stage of the disease.

In dyspepsia maladies, when taken in proper quantities, as a diet drink, and especially at dinner, it is found, by uniform experience, to be eminently efficacious in the most obstinate cases, when even the best of the usual remedies have failed to afford more than temporary relief. In cases of Flatulency, it is an immediate and invariable specific, and it may be administered in diluted and proportionate quantities, even to YOUNG INFANTS, in all those paroxysms of griping pain in the stomach and bowels to which they are especially subject, as well as in the cholic of growing pains.

Its judicious adoption in connection with the principal meals, or when a sense of exhaustion dictates its use, never fails to relieve the debility attendant upon protracted chronic maladies, low temperament and exhausted vital energy, by whatever cause induced. These are facts to which many of the most eminent medical men, both in England and the United States, have borne testimony, and which are corroborated by the highest written authorities.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with my name on the bottles, cork, and facsimile of my signature on the label.

For sale by all the respectable Druggists and Liquor dealers in California and Oregon.

MRS. WINSLOW,
An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of mothers, her
SOOTHING SYRUP
FOR CHILDREN TEETHING,
Which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.
We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, that we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP was timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations and speak in terms of the highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after ten years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfillment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.
This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILFUL NURSES in New England, and has been used with uncerfailing success in
THOUSANDS OF CASES,
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will relieve almost instantly
Griping in the Bowels, and Wind Colic; and overcome convulsions, which if not speedily remedied, end in death.
We believe it FOR Children TEETHING the best and SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA in CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething or from other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints, DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine; if timely used. Full directions will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Mariposa Gazette

National Democratic Platform.

ADOPTED AT BALTIMORE, JULY 23RD, 1860.

Resolved, That the platform adopted by the Democratic party at Cincinnatti be affirmed, with the following explanatory resolutions:

First, That the government of a Territory organized by an act of the Congress is provisional and temporary, and during its existence all citizens of the United States have an equal right to settle with their property in the Territory, without their rights, either of person or property, being destroyed or impaired by Congressional or territorial legislations.

Second, That it is the duty of the Federal Government, in all its departments, to protect, when necessary, the rights of persons and property in the Territories, and whatever else its constitutional authority extends.

Third, That when the settlers in a Territory having an adequate population, from a State Constitution, the right of sovereignty commences, and being consummated by admission into the Union they stand on equal footing with the people of other States, and the State thus organized ought to be admitted into the Federal Union, whether its constitution prohibits or recognizes the institution of slavery.

Resolved, That the Democratic party are in favor of the acquisition of the island of Cuba, on such terms as will be honorable to ourselves and just to Spain, at the earliest practical moment.

Resolved, That the enactments of State legislatures to defeat the faithful execution of the fugitive slave law, are hostile in character, subversive of the Constitution, and revolutionary in their effect.

Resolved, That the Democracy of the United States recognize it as the imperative duty of this Government to protect the naturalized citizen in all his rights, whether at home or in foreign lands, to the same extent as its native born citizens.

Whereas, One of the greatest necessities of the age, in a political, commercial, postal and military point of view, is a speedy communicating between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the National Democratic party do hereby pledge themselves to use every means in their power to secure the passage of some bill, to the extent of the Constitutional authority of Congress, for the construction of a Pacific railroad from the Mississippi river to the Pacific ocean, at the earliest practicable moment.

BURLINGAME BLABS ON DOUGLAS.—Democratic papers, says the correspondent of the Bulletin, are having much to say of Douglas' treachery, and at present are quoting the following:

"The Hon. Anson Burlingame addressed the citizens of Belfast last Tuesday evening. The only point the speaker made which is worthy of the attention of Democrats, is that which disclosed his alleged confidential relations with Mr Douglas. Upon this matter I give Mr. Burlingame's own language; it was as follows: "Colfax, Frank Blair and myself have had frequent private interviews with Mr. Douglas in his own house. On these occasions Mr. Douglas freely made use of expressions of the deepest indignation against Southern dictation. I also had a private interview with Mr. Douglas." continued Mr. Burlingame, "on the occasion of his late visit to Boston Mr. Douglas then made use of this language: 'Burlingame, I am elected Senator for six years; I have got Joe Lane's head in a basket, and soon shall have Slidell's, Bright's and Fitch's. Won't it be a splendid sight, Burlingame, to see McDougal returned from California, Baker from Oregon, and Douglas and Uncle Abe, all at Washington together for the next President is to come from Illinois!'"

The Republicans will never forgive Douglas for having raised their hopes, that he was an out and out Republican, and then not quite coming up to the mark. Though now, quite a portion of that party are moderately well satisfied that he (Douglas) has succeeded in dividing the Democratic party, a good many are much dissatisfied, and "will tell" at times of Douglas's defection. If they will, however, wait patiently a little while, they will get him body and breeches.

DANIEL WEBSTER ON TERRITORIES.—"We have always gone upon the ground that these territorial governments were in a state of pupilage, under the protection or patronage of the General Government. The Territorial legislature has a Constitution prescribed by Congress. They have no power not given by that Congress. They must act within the limits of the Constitution granted them by Congress, or else their acts become void. The people under a territorial government are not a sovereignty; they do not constitute a sovereignty, and do not possess any of the rights incident to sovereignty. They are, if you so please to denominate it, in a state of inchoate government and sovereignty. If we well consider this question upon the ground of our practice during the last half century, I think we will find one way of disposing of it. It is our duty to provide for the people of a territory a government to keep the peace, to secure their property; to assign to them a subordinate judicial authority; to see that the protection of their persons and the security of their property is regularly provided for; and to maintain them in that state until they grow into sufficient importance, in point of population, to be admitted into the Union as a State upon the same footing as the original States. It seems to me that that is all our duty. I shall most readily concur in anything which tends to the performance of that duty. But I cannot go into any general discussion about the rights of the people while under the territorial government, and do more than they are permitted to do by that Constitution which creates a government over them.

...."How is your husband, dear?" asked one lady of another.

"Oh, he is in a very bad state," was the reply.

"And pray, what kind of a state is he in?" persisted the other.

"In the State Prison."

....When distance lends enchantment to the view, what amount of interest does it charge the view for the accommodation?

PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE BETTER THAN EXPERIMENTAL SCIENCE.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

CONSOLATION FOR THE SUFFERING.

Nealy fifty years continual use in every part of the habitable globe, among the savage and the civilized alike, has proved that simple eruptions, open sores, hard tumors, scrofulous developments of all kinds, abscesses, cancers, old wounds, and, in one word, every species of inflamation and suppuration, whether in the skin, the flesh, the glands, or among the muscles, can be arrested and permanently cured, without danger, by rubbing in and using as a dressing, this inestimable Ointment.

Scrofula, Erysipelas, & Salt Rheum.

No remedy has ever done so much for the cure of diseases of the Skin, whatever form they may assume, as this Ointment. No case of Salt Rheum, Scurvey, Sore Heads, Scrofula or Erysipelas, can long withstand its influence.

Bad Legs, Old Sores, and Ulcers

Cases of many years standing that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.

Eruptions on the Skin,

Arising from a bad state of the blood or chronic disease, are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the face.

Piles and Fistula.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emollient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healthy qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Rheumatism,	Sores of all kinds,
Burns,	Ringworm,	Sprains,
Chapped hands,	Salt Rheum,	Stiff Joints,
Chilblains,	Scalds,	Tetter,
Fistula,	Skin Diseases,	Ulcers,
Gout,	Swelled Glands,	Venerial Sores,
Lumbago,	Sore Legs,	Wounds of all kinds.
Mercurial Eruptions,	Sore Breasts,
	Sore Heads,
Piles,	Sore Throats,

☞ Caution!—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernible as a Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine throughout the United States and the civilized world, in pots, at 25 cents, 62 cents, and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each pot. dec29

Pacific Ear Infirmary!

Important to the Deaf & Deaf Dumb!

DR. PILKINGTON,

Late Proprietor of the Institution for the Deaf at St. Louis, Missouri, and Chicago, Illinois,

HAS arrived and may be consulted at the corner of Montgomery and California streets, (Express Building, up stairs) San Francisco. Early attention is desired.

Deafness, Dizziness, Ear Ache, Catarrh, Noise in the Head, and all discharges from the Ear, Mouth or Nostrils, ENTIRELY REMOVED.

A number of years of unremitting attention to diseases of the Ear as a speciality, has enabled him to make many improvements in all that has heretofore known of Aural Medicine and Surgery and to insure such a degree of success as seems almost incredible. A great number of certificates and testimonials can be seen at his office, from many well known citizens in different parts of the Union.—From the afflicted at a distance, a letter of inquiry enclosing a stamp to prepay answer, will receive immediate attention. Direct to

Dr. Pilkington,

The Eyes! The Eyes!

DR. E. H. PARDEE,

OCULIST.—After a protracted blindness of more than five years, DR. PARDEE has made himself thoroughly and scientifically acquainted with all diseases of the Eye, and has now been in practice eight years in San Francisco with a success that cannot be surpassed in any part of the United States; and for proof of this he will substantiate by cases that have been cured by him, after having exhausted the skill of all the eminent Oculists in the cities of Boston, Philadelphia and New York. Dr. P. wholly objects to the use of caustic, blue stone—keeping the patient in a dark room, dieting, blistering, cupping—the blue pill at night and salts in the morning, etc., etc. DR. PARDEE has also been remarkably successful in the treatment of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all pains about the head; and the frequent calls that he has for his Rheumatic mixture from all parts of this coast, with the many testimonials, is positive proof of its efficacy; and to prevent answering many inquiries by letter, he will state that it can be sent to any part of the State or coast, and each bottle will be accompanied with full directions and a recipt for a liniment, magical in its effects over pain, ingredients of which can be procured any where—price, $10. The ARTIFICIAL EYES inserted by Dr. P. have all the natural movements of the real eye, and cannot be detected even by close inspection. Address

Importers and Wholesale Dealers!

Entire New and Fresh Stock

WE WOULD CALL THE ATTENTION OF COUNTRY MERCHANTS

To our unusually large Stock of Goods. Our stock comprises every article in the Clothing and Furnishing Line.

We have constantly on hand the largest stock and greatest variety of CASSIMERE, WOOL and STRAW HATS, of any house in the city, and our prices for these Goods are less than those of any other house; as we receive them direct from the manufacturer, on CONSIGNMENT.

Our Stock of

Spring and Summer Goods,

Is particularly attractive, and the great feature to the COUNTRY MERCHANT is the unusually low price—less than the cost of importation.

We also keep the STAPLE ARTICLES in the DRY GOODS LINE, which Goods we have purchased in this market under the HAMMER, and are offering them at New York Cost, and less.

We publish this CARD in order that we may make new acquaintances, and induce those who have not heretofore purchased of us, to call and inspect our Stock.

All that we ask, is an opportunity to SHOW THE GOODS and name the prices, and we have no fear of the result. Good articles and LOW PRICES are the great inducements to all who purchase to sell again.

Merchants who buy of us can make a good profit and sell to their customers at a low figure.

We remain, respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
